

Back To Church Sunday

September 15, 2013 at 10:30am
at Rutherford Congregational Church

YOU are invited.....BACK TO CHURCH!

Are you feeling tired, grumpy and stressed out?? Consider coming to church. According to an April 2006 Washington Times article, "Churchgoing Correlated to Longevity," people who attend church regularly tend to live longer, happier lives! This may be because people who participate in faith-based activities tend to be more optimistic, less stressed, and feel like they are making a difference in the world.

With that in mind, Rutherford Congregational Church has decided to participate in National Back to Church Sunday, a grassroots community movement involving over 15,000 churches nationwide. On September 15th, we are joining other churches across the country in inviting America Back to Church.

We invite everyone to join us. If you are one of our members we haven't seen in awhile, we extend a special heartfelt invitation for you to reconnect and join us. If you are new to RCC, we invite you to continue your journey with us. To all our members and friends, we challenge you to turn to a neighbor, a friend, a relative, and yes, even to a stranger in the check-out line, and invite them to RCC on September 15th at 10:30am.

Not only do we hope to entice you with the prospect of living a longer, happier life, but to commemorate the occasion, we will also be serving

Ice Cream Sundaes!!!!

Special Note: On September 8th, after church, we will be hanging "Back to Church" door hangers on the doorknobs of houses in the immediate vicinity of RCC. We would love some help!! (From Your M&F Board)
